

ADDENDA

University Catalog Addenda

The University Catalog is produced throughout the year and published in April and contain the original information submitted by various catalog authors from George Mason University's academic and administrative units. Here we provide you with the addenda to this edition of the University Catalog.