

PSYCHOLOGY, MA (CEHD)

Banner Code: E1-MA-PSYC

Academic Advising

Advising for the College of Education and Human Development | George Mason University (<https://cehd.gmu.edu/current-students/advising/>)

Phone: 703-993-4266

Website: education.gmu.edu/school-psychology/

The School Psychology program is committed to preparing graduate students to practice psychology in educational and clinical settings that serve children, adolescents, and their families. The program is approved by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP). The Master of Arts in Psychology, concentration in School Psychology is earned en route to the EdS in School Psychology degree for those students who do not yet have a masters in school psychology. This MA concentration in School Psychology is not able to be earned as a stand alone degree.

Concentration in School Psychology (SCH)

Coursework

Code	Title	Credits
EDCD 603	Counseling Theories	3
EDRD 629	Literacy Foundations and Instruction for School Psychologists	3
SPSY 617	Child Psychopathology	3
SPSY 619	Consultation and Applied Behavioral Analysis	3
SPSY 671	Role and Function of the School Psychologist	3
SPSY 672	Schools as Systems Practicum in School Psychology	3
SPSY 709	Cognitive Assessment	4
SPSY 710	Social, Emotional, and Behavioral Assessment	4
SPSY 722	Advanced Child Assessment	4
SPSY 750	Cognitive Assessment Practicum	3
SPSY 773	Prevention, Intervention, and Consultation in Schools	3

Total Credits 36

Admissions & Policies

Admissions

Applicants to all graduate programs at George Mason University must meet the admission standards and application requirements for graduate study as specified in Graduate Admissions (<https://catalog.gmu.edu/admissions/graduate-policies/>).

In addition, 15 credit hours of undergraduate or graduate psychology coursework are required (general psychology, statistics, research methods or experimental psychology, abnormal psychology, and developmental psychology).

Policies

For policies governing all graduate degrees, see Graduate Policies (<https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/academic/graduate-policies/>).

With the approval of the academic program coordinator, division director, and CEHD Office of Student and Academic Affairs, a maximum of 17 credits may be transferred into the program from a previously-conferred graduate degree.

Requirements

Degree Requirements

Total credits: 36

An overload is required in the fall and spring terms of students' first year.