AFRICAN AND AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES (AFAM)

200 Level Courses

AFAM 200: Introduction to African American Studies. 3 credits.
Interdisciplinary introduction to the field of African American studies. Includes comparative analysis of approaches, methodologies, and key concepts related to the study of people of African descent in the United States, continental Africa, and throughout the African diaspora. Lectures and discussion integrate attention to such issues as diversity and multiculturalism from national and global perspectives. Offered by Humanities & Social Sciences. May not be repeated for credit.

Mason Core: Social/Behavioral Sciences

Schedule Type: Lecture

300 Level Courses

AFAM 390: Special Topics in African and African American Studies. 3 credits.
Study of selected topics related to the study of people of African descent in Africa, the United States, the Caribbean, Latin Americas and throughout the African Diaspora. Notes: May be repeated when topic is different. Offered by Humanities & Social Sciences. May be repeated within the term for a maximum 12 credits.

Schedule Type: Lecture

400 Level Courses

AFAM 490: Internship. 2-6 credits.
Approved work-study program in cooperation with specific organizations including area museums; NGOs; and local, state, and federal agencies. Students should arrange for an internship in the semester before they wish to enroll. Permission required from program director, Dr. Wendi Manuel-Scott. Notes: Credit to be determined by the African American Studies Program. Offered by Humanities & Social Sciences. May not be repeated for credit.

Schedule Type: Internship

AFAM 499: Independent Study. 1-3 credits.
Investigation of an area related to African American studies according to individual interest, with emphasis on research. Permission required from program director, Dr. Wendi Manuel-Scott. Offered by Humanities & Social Sciences. May not be repeated for credit.

Schedule Type: Independent Study